

Health Communication Research Centre 4th Summer School

Analysing Communication in Public Health and Healthcare Settings

22 – 24 June 2009, Cardiff University

This intensive course is specifically targeted at researchers and professionals within the broad healthcare field. The course will offer exposure to different analytical frameworks, covering micro and macro perspectives on both oral and written data, in a range of healthcare sites. Each day is divided into presentations from the course team followed by smaller group work involving a practical hands-on approach. There will be opportunities for participants to discuss their ongoing research (in the form of data sharing and consultations).

The course team will comprise of: Professor Michael Brannigan (The College of St Rose, Albany, New York, USA), Professor Richard Frankel (Indiana University School of Medicine, USA), Professor Per Måseide (Bodø University College, Norway), Professor Srikant Sarangi (Cardiff University, UK), and Professor Peter Schulz (University of Lugano, Switzerland).

The 4th Summer School overlaps with the 7th COMET Conference at Cardiff, 25-27 June 2009.

Full rates range from £175 per day to £400 for 3 days (see website for concessions) which will include course materials, bibliography, lunch and refreshments and Certificate of Attendance

Early registration: 30 April 2009

For further course details contact Ms Aileen Doyle
Tel. 029 2087 6154, email healthcom@cardiff.ac.uk
For programme updates visit the website www.cardiff.ac.uk/encap/research/hcrc

There are a limited number of places available so please book early.
The summer school will only run if the minimum number of places are filled.